How to Select a Character

Hold the Share Button until the Main LED turns off. Continue to hold the share button, and use the two Pro Buttons on the back of the controller to input the character number per the list on page 2.

NOTE: The Left Pro Button increases the character count by 10 and the Right Pro Button increases the character count by 1. For instance, if you want to set it for Kano (character 13) - Press the Left Pro Button 1 time (counts as 10) then the Right Pro Button 3 times (counts as 3). This gives you Mode 13 (10 + 3 = 13).

Once you are done inputting the character number, simply release the view button and the LED will blink the number of times that correspond to the mode chosen. In the example above, the LED will flash one time then pause and flash 3 times - letting you know you are in mode 13.
Character Modes

To utilize the Mortal Kombat X Fatality Mod, you must first set the mode to the character you are using. Each character corresponds to a mode number.

The character selection is based on the order of character selections in the game. The character selection is read left to right, top to bottom, like a book. For instance, Jax is character number 3 and Kano is character 18. You can also reference the chart below:

Each character comes with 2 Fatality Mods – reference the chart above. To perform a fatality, position the character for the chosen fatality, then either tap or hold the Pro Button – depending on which fatality you would like to perform.

 Important! Read Below! ******

Disabling the Fatality mods

To disable the mod you have a couple choices:

(1) Option 1: Turn the controller

(2) Option 2: Choose a Mode that does not correspond to a character (For Example, Mode 8 or Mode 40)
